

Colorado Native, Lari has called Larimer County home for over 30 years. Lari discovered her passion for supporting others in recovery while she was in residential treatment for alcohol. It was there that she set her goals to become an advocate and resource to her peer's seeking recovery and wellness. She has been pursuing that goal ever since. Before coming to Hornbuckle Foundation, Lari honed her skills primarily serving marginalized populations, and those involved in the criminal justice system. Lari is a compassionate and dedicated Recovery Coach who has a reputation of genuinely caring about people and treating them with the dignity and respect they deserve.

Lari's passions for being a Recovery Coach are evidenced by her natural ability to connect with people and help them find their freedom from substances.

Some of Lari's strengths include advocating for access, fair treatment and services with detox/treatment providers, the judicial system, emergency departments, and by thinking out of the box to find resources to support those she serves. Lari is a CCAR Certified Recovery Coach, and Peer and Family Support Specialist. She has been pursuing a life of wellness and recovery since 2017.
