

Casey has a great passion for helping other recovering drug and alcohol addicts continue on their new found existence in recovery. Casey has four years of sobriety herself and knows that help is necessary to be successful in recovery.

Casey worked and lived in recovery homes and loves the support given by them. Before finding continued support of recovery homes, Casey was homeless for 3 ½ years. Casey now wants nothing more than to give guidance and support to those still struggling with a new way of living in the absence of substances.
