

Brittany Beckwith

Brittany Beckwith is The Scholarship Program Director for The Hornbuckle Foundation and a Peer Support Specialist with an immense devotion to serve. Having suffered from substance abuse and matters of mental health, Brittany has developed a strong adoration to help people who continue to suffer. Active in her own recovery, Brittany is regularly engaged in many forms of recovery to include the Twelve Step Programs offered by NA and AA, In/Outpatient Programs, as well as regularly meeting with a mental health therapist.

Brittany has been a Hairstylist for over ten years and although successful in her career, she knew as a recovering addict that she could do more to help the recovery community. She believes that recovery works best if she is willing to share her experience and journey with others. In the process of working an honest program, she has seen miracles in her life and the lives of others around her. She regularly shares her personal journey of recovery and mental health to give hope to those still suffering in Alcoholism, Addiction, and matters of Mental Health.
